The Chamber of Commerce. The usual monthly meeting of the Chamber took place esterday afternoon at one o'clock, the President, P

Perit, Esq., in the chair. After the reading of the minutes, the following gentle on were elected members of the Chamber:-Messrs William Allen Crocker, Russell H. Hoadley, William C langley, Benjamin F. Manierre, Isaac H. Upton and rt T. Woodward.

Mr. WETMORE presented to the Chamber a copy of the dings and debates of the Fourth National Quaran ritary Convention, held in the city of Boston, June 14, 15 and 16, 1860, as reported for the City Council of Boston, embodying the adopted Quarantine regulations for this country. In connection therewith, he said that delegates were present at that Convention from all the ens by them adopted had been printed in a separate form, and would be sent to every city of the known world, he hoped to find them universally used, and not ome national but international rules for regulat

Resolved, That the Committee on Quarantine inquire and report to the Chamber what legislation is necessary in regard to the question of Quarantine as presented by the Governor in his annual message to the Legislature. In somection therewith he sund he thought the Chamber should take its proper position with regard to this subject. The State, although receiving the embluments from this source, yet ande no appropriation towards the support of Quarantine. He did not think it right that the State should receive the benefits, while the city alone paid the expenses. If the city government did not move in the matter he thought this Chamber should; and he trusted that, under the chairmanship of Mr. OptPke, the Quarantine Committee would move effectually.

Mr. Royal Panus seconded the resolution, considering the subject of great importance, as by the present oppressive laws vessels could discharge at other ports and send the goods to New York by lighters at a cheaper rate than by paying the Quarantine fees.

The resolution was a lopted and referred to the Quarantine Committee.

ine Committee.

Mr. MAURY read a letter from Professor Hackley saking for an appropriation by the Chamber of $200, for the purpose of purchasing proper apparatus for making time and weather observations, and also for the proper regulation of chromometers. He would, therefore, move that the amount be granted.

Mr. Bluyr opposed the motion, as he thought chromometers too small a business for the Chamber to enter ato. They might next, with equal propriety, supply hip's stores. There are plenty in this city to attend to that business.

that business.

Mr. MAUNY said that he did not know what the "plenty" could do, but he was sure it was never done.

The PRESENCY said there would be no funds until after May for such a purpose. The Chamber had not yet abased oned the idea of a proper observatory being established.

Mr. ROYAL PREIES opposed the motion upon principle, as he did not think the Chamber should engage in any wrights enterprise.

Mr. Royal Pinkirs opposed the motion upon principle, as he did not think the Chamber should engage in any private enterprise.

Captain Nya stated that the chronometers were not so well regulated in New York as in Liverpool, and something should be done in the matter.

After further discussion the motion was lost.

Messrs, Ezra R. Goodrich and Charles E. Hill were nominated as candidates for membership of the Chamber.

On motion, the Chamber adjourned.

Previous to the commencement of the business of the Chamber, and after the close of the same, the members of the body began conversing in strong terms regarding the conduct of South Carolina. Mr. Royal Phelps stated that he had but one of two courses of action to choose from, viz.—To join in with the secessionists or his country. His choice was easily made. He strongly condemned the course pursued by the South Carolinaus. He had lost all sympathy with them. Others of the Board who had previously sympathized with South Carolina, now denounced them as traitors, declaring that when the issue was between the support of union or treason there could be little choice left, not only for the whole North, but for all true Americans—and that was to oppose the latter, heart and soul.

GRAND NATIONAL BALL.-A grand national or intermational ball will be given by the proprietors of the St. Nicholas, at their hotel, on the evening the St. Nicholas, at their hotel, on the evening of January 8, to celebrate the auniversary of the Battle of New Orleans. Such gentlemen as John Van Buren, George Optiyke, Augustus Schell and August Belmont, have the direction of the affair, and Northerners and southerners, democrats and republicans, will trip the ligot fautastic together, hoping that their social fraternizations may anotype a grand national dance to the music of the Union, from which even South Carolina shall not be absent.

en and ladies connected with the Educational De rtment of our city, assembled on Wednesday evening the residence of Alderman Farley, for the purpose of esenting him with a testimonial of their appreciation his services as School Commissioner of the Nineteenth rd, his term of office having expired with the close of past year. The presentation was made on behalf of a evening school teachers of the ward by Miss Annette Rutherford, in an address engrossed upon a chart acmpanying the gift. Mr. Farley, in receiving it, briefly arned his thanks, and was followed in a short address Mr. S. Randall, Superintendent of Public Schools, der. Alderman Herrick. The company then adjourned a neighboring apartment, where a bountiful supper them provided. THE COURT MARTIAL OF COLONEL CORCORAN.
The court martial of Colonel Michael Corcoran, of the Sixty-ninth regiment, was resumed yesterday evening at the Arsenal, corner of Elm and White streets. After the reading of the proceedings of the previous

The Judge Advocate made his reply to the objections of Colonel Corcoran, given at the last sitting. He contended that the statute in relation to the number of parades by division during the year did not limit the number to two, inasmuch as it did not state that two only of such parades should be had. Military custom was a matter to be regarded in the consideration of this point, especially when it did not conflict with the expressed statute. For a long time past extra parades during the year had been made on the occasion of incidents of great public interest; and he instanced a number of cases, from the time of Lafayette's reception down to the Atlantic cable celebration. The law contemplated and considered this custom when it gave to the First division of the New York State militin more privileges for parading than to the other divisions of the State. Bivisions outside the city paraded by order of the Communder-in-chief, but the law gave the Major General of the First division more extended authority over his division, on account of the many exigences occurring in such a city as New York to call forth its services for parade and display. As to the objection in regard to the title and rank of the Prince of Wales, he urged the justification and formality of so styling that royal visiter, because the President of the United States had received him as such in reality, had placed a vessel at his disposal, and paid him other honors inappropriate to a person of private rank such as the defence chaimed him to be.

Colonel Corcoran requested time to prepare his answer to the above, and the Court adjourned until Tuesday next, at four P. M. of Colonel Corcoran, given at the last sitting. He con-

FUR FACTORY DESTROYED BY FIRE.—At two o'clock yes terday morning the fur factory in Tenth street near terday morning the fur factory in Tenth street near Ainsile, occupied by Greene & Toby, took fire, and not withstanding the efforts of the firemen to save the premises, they were totally destroyed, and the surrounding buildings narrowly escaped. By this calamity upwards of three hundred persons have been suddenly thrown out of employment. The fire was discovered by patrolinan Keeler, of the Sixth precinct. It originated in or about a picker, and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion of rags. The factory is owned and occupied by J. F. Green & Co. Total loss $5,000 or $6,000. Insured fully, in four New York companies.

FIRE AND SUSPECTED ARSON .- At a quarter to three street, which is occupied by Frederick Martine as a second hand furniture store. The flames were soon extinguished, with a less of about $25. Insured in the St. Nicholas Insurance Company, New York, for $300. Martine was arrested on suspicion of having set fire to the building.

BURNT TO DEATH .- On Tuesday evening two women named Mary Lacey and Mary O'Neill, who lived togethe at No. 206 Atlantic street, went home in a state of in-toxication. At half-past twelve o'clock Wednesday morn-ing screams were heard issuing from the premises, and Sergeant Matthews, of the First district, went to see what was the matter. On entering the hallway a shock-ing spectacle presented itself to his gaze. Lacey was lying dead, with her clothes all burnt off her body, and her fiesh literally roasted. According to the statement of her fiesh literally roasted. According to the statement of the surviving woman, Lacey's clothing ignited while she was endeavoring to light a fire, and as O'Neill was too far gone in intoxication to render any assistance, or even to give the alarm in time, her companion burnt to death. The body was conveyed to the Third district station house, and the Coroner notified.
